100 people in near misses on rail lines

NEARLY 100 people narrowly missed being hit by a train in Northamptonshire last year, new figures into rail safety have revealed.

The startling figures also label the Northampton rail lines as the second worst area in the county for vandalism and trespassing.

Network Rail released the figures on Tuesday to highlight the dangers of electricity.

It follows a survey commissioned by the company which showed only one third of parents discussed rail safety with their children.

Russell Spink, a spokesman for Network Rail in the East Midlands, said the company's community safety team had been working hard in Northampton with young people and their parents to warn them of the dangers of the railway.

He added: "Northampton is a particularly busy station and although children often think they are invincible, they certainly are not when they are hit by a 125mph train.

"Unfortunately it is usual that rail lines in a large town will become a hotspot for vandalism and trespassing, but we are working to reduce the number of incidents in Northampton.

"We can't say that it is only children however; there are adults in Northampton risking their lives who are old enough and wise enough to know better."

British Transport Police recorded 71 incidents of trespass and 31 of vandalism on Northamptonshire railways over the last 12 months, but believe the true figure is much higher as many incidents are in remote areas or at night and not seen by CCTV or railway staff.

Alarming, there were also four incidents of laser pens being shone into train drivers' eyes and 13 reports of stones, bricks and other objects being thrown at trains in the county.

Many reports of graffiti and objects being placed on the rail line were also recorded last year.

Popular shoe firm is set to expand

ONE of the county's best known brands has announced plans to expand in a bid to keep shoe making alive in Northamptonshire.

Dr Martens is taking on new staff at its headquarters in Wollaston to increase the amount of boots produced at the site.

The company is currently advertising vacancies for a shoe-room specialist, footwear production operatives, a warehouse operative and apprentices.

In an advert for the vacancies, a spokesman for the company said: "In 2011, our small factory in Wollaston is ready to expand in size to make 70,000 pairs a year.

"With this expansion comes the possibility of recruiting and training more workers, young and old, to keep shoe making in general, and Dr Martens know how in particular, alive in Northamptonshire."

It was in 1960 when the Griggs family began producing Dr Martens in Wollaston at their factory in Cobbs Lane.

Expansions followed, but in 2000, jobs were lost when the company closed a clutch of small shoe factories as production was transferred to China.

Dan Ward, landlord of the Cuckoo pub, in High Street, Wollaston, said: "We would definitely welcome this expansion. Hopefully it will mean that more people will have money to spend in our pub."

Marie Shelton, from the Wollaston Heritage Society, said: "We are extremely pleased to hear that Dr Martens is expanding in the village again. It's great news for the village."

Wollaston parish and borough councillor Eileen Higgins said: "This is very good news. It will bring more money into the village."

The closing date for applications is August 12.

Opposition vows to fight turbines

RESIDENTS have vowed to continue to fight plans to construct 15 giant wind turbines – each almost as tall as the Lift Tower – next to a beauty spot.

Electricity firm Ecotricity has formally applied for permission to build the wind farm next to Salcey Forest.

The proposal, submitted to Milton Keynes Council is to build the wind farm on land at Stoke Lodge Farm, in Purse Lane, Stoke Goldington.

The plans were circulated to local residents and councillors earlier this month, prompting concerns about the impact the turbines would have on the beauty spot. The application came as developers also looked into the possibility of building a wind farm on land between Roade and Hartwell.

A spokesman for the Save Our Salcey group opposing the plans said: "There will be 15 turbines which are 400 foot high from the floor to the tip of the blade. Two of the turbines, I believe, are within a few hundred metres of the forest so anyone using the forest itself will be impacted by them. The area is covered in nationally recognised footpaths and bridal paths and then there is also the impact it will have on wildlife."

Councillor Michael Clarke (Con, Hackleton) said he had not seen detailed plans for either of the wind farms, but admitted he had concerns about the impact the development would have on Salcey Forest.

He said: "Salcey Forest is the jewel in the crown of South Northamptonshire's environment and is somewhere we would not wish to have disturbed in any way."

The developers say the Stoke Heights Wind Park would provide enough energy for an estimated 25,386 homes in Milton Keynes.

However, Andrea Leadsom, MP for South Northamptonshire, said she did not believe Northamptonshire was the best place for wind farms. She said: "I think Northamptonshire is one of the least windy places in the country."

A public meeting about the application will be held at 8pm tonight in Stoke Goldington village hall.

The tree-top walk at Salcey Forest has been a huge hit with visitors

Police in hunt for cat killer suspect

A HUNT has been launched for a suspected cat-killer after three were found dead in one quiet Northampton street following a spate of possible anti-freeze poisonings.

The three cats have all died in Ermine Road, Rectory Farm, this month.

Officers from Northamptonshire Police are investigating the deaths and have carried out house-to-house inquiries in Ermine Road, both to find clues and to warn cat owners to take extra care of their pets.

A spokesman for the force said: "Since the start of July, there have been three reports of cats dying suddenly with similar symptoms in the Ermine Road area.

"A vet has said the cause of death could have been from anti-freeze poisoning.

"We don't know for certain that somebody is killing them deliberately, but we would appeal for anyone who knows anything about the deaths to come forward."

Among the animals which have died in Ermine Road was five-year-

Troll the cat died from suspected antifreeze poisoning old ginger cat, Troll, who belonged to Charlotte Cullinan and her family.

She said: "We noticed he was convulsing, so we took him to the vets and four days later he had to be put down.

"The vet said it could have been from anti-freeze poisoning, then a few days later, one of our neighbours told us one of their cats had to be put down because of the same thing.

"We've also had quite a few people come up to us since then saying they've had the same problem."

Despite the police only officially investigating three deaths, Mrs Cullinan said she feared the actual number of cats which had been killed could be higher.

She said: "We think somebody is going out to get them.

"As well as those we know about, there are some cats which haven't been seen in a few weeks.

"I think the whole thing is terrible. My son was absolutely devastated when we told him what had happened to Troll, he just sobbed uncontrollably."

The Ermine Road residents are now planning to hold a meeting at the Rectory Farm Community Centre to make neighbours aware of the situation.

They have also enlisted the help of the RSPCA and their local county councillor, Councillor David Mackintosh (Con, Ecton Brook), to spread the warning.

The police have asked anyone who knows how the cats may have died to contact them on 03000 111222.

Manager needed

THE Environment Agency is in need of a site manager to look after the newly-developed Northampton Marina.

Boats are already using the flagship marina on the River Nene at Becket's Park, off Bedford Road, and the facilities building is due to open in September.

Sue Cant, Nene Waterway team leader, said: "The right person will have a working knowledge of boats, marinas, health and safety, great communication skills and a genuine desire to deliver a high standard of service to our boating customers.

"In return they will get satisfaction from knowing that they are helping to play a key role in the future success of a business which addresses local needs and delights visitors."

On your bike for charity

WITH two months to go, organisers of this year's Cycle 4 Cynthia are urging participants to take on a fundraising challenge for its two charities Cynthia Spencer Hospice and Macmillan Cancer Support.

Macmillan is celebrating its centenary this year and, to mark it, cyclists taking part in Cycle 4 Cynthia at Althorp House on Sunday, September 25, are being asked to raise at least £100 sponsorship – a pound for every year of the charity.

In return they will be entered into a prize draw for the chance to win a family hot air balloon trip.

Cycle 4 Cynthia has a five-mile, 25-mile or 50-mile route. Entry costs £10 for adults, £5 for children and £25 for families. Visit www.cycle4cynthia.com.

Council has its lights on

THE LEADERS of Northamptonshire County Council have been accused of double standards for leaving their headquarters floodlit while switching off thousands of street lights across the county.

As part of controversial plans to save £2 million, the council is currently switching off half the county's 66,000 street lights.

But both the authority's headquarters at County Hall in George Row, Northampton and their staff car park in nearby Angel Street remain floodlit at night.

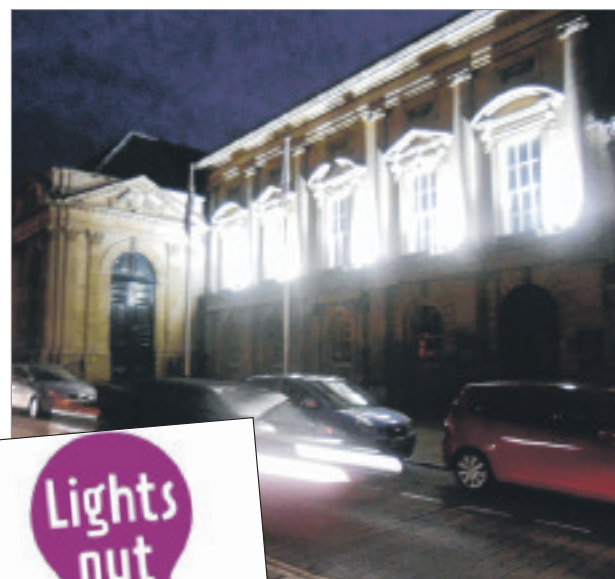

The council has argued the lights need to be left on for 'community safety', but the leader of the opposition at County Hall, Councillor Brendan Glynane (Lib Dem, Delapre) said the lights sent out the wrong message to residents.

He said: "People are really upset about half the county's lights going off, so at least half the lights on County Hall should go too."

"It makes you wonder whether they ever actually stand in front of a mirror and look at themselves. To me it just reeks of double standards. "They should go away and have a long, hard think about it and realise they should be taking the pain of this switch-off with everybody else."

"I know they're saying they're there for security, but where's the security for the people in sheltered housing complexes, who are having half their lights switched off?"

Over the weekend, the front of County Hall was illuminated by councillor David Mackintosh (Con, Ecton Brook) defended leaving on the lights at the front of the building.

He said: "The town centre is used by quite a lot of people at night, so we've decided to leave on all the lights in the centre of town for community safety."

He did however admit the authority would have to look again at their floodlit empty car park.

The council had to make a swift u-turn on the lighting policy last week when Northamptonshire Police raised concerns about two paths across the Racecourse having all their lights switched off.

After talking with the police, the council agreed to put the park's lights back on.

five large white lights during the night. The empty staff car park at the back of the building was also lit up by several floodlights.

£300m classic race

AN ESTIMATED £300 million of historic racing cars descended on Silverstone over the weekend for the 21st annual Silverstone Classic.

Thousands of classic car fans enjoyed a packed weekend programme of races, car displays and parades from Friday to Sunday, as well as off-track entertainment including a funfair, air displays and live music from artists including Suzi Quattro, 10cc and Wishbone Ash.

Among the attractions at the event this year was a huge parade and display of Jaguar E-types, as well as two races to celebrate the mark's 50th birthday.

And a host of famous faces took part in a celebrity race in aid of the Cancer Research UK Bobby Moore Fund that was full of drama and close on-track action.

After footballer Luther Blissett's first corner crash, the race had to be re-started and a five-way lead battle raged until the final lap, when singer Rick Parfitt Jnr broke away to repeat his 2010 victory, ahead of chef Heston Blumenthal and dancer Brendan Cole.

Afterwards many of the celebrity participants posted pictures and messages on social networking website Twitter.

DJ "Comedy Dave" Vitty wrote: "Had a brilliant day at Silverstone today, racing in aid of the Bobby Moore fund."

Former winner of The Apprentice Lee McQueen added: "Awesome day today! Rick, Heston and Brendan top 3 in that order! I was 5th."

Model Zoe Cole, wife of third-place man Brendan, said: "Well I made it! In one piece. One of the hardest but most exciting things I've ever done. Sadly didn't beat hubby but came 9th which is where hubby came last yr. Hubby on Podium. So proud. Thnx so much to all who sponsored."

Just pleased 2 b alive. Was carnage!"

Among the fans enjoying the action on and off track at the weekend were Malcolm and Carole Doherty, who travelled from Hertfordshire for a family day out with five-year-old James and Emily, aged three, as well as Carole's parents Geoff and Pauline Johnson.

Malcolm said: "We've been a few times in the past for all three days but this is the first time we've brought the children."

"It's changed a lot since 2000 when we first came here. It's massive now, absolutely huge."

lutely huge.

"We've been to the funfair, which the kids loved, walked around the pits, which was brilliant, and looked around the car club displays, which are huge."

"I think this is a brilliant event. It's superb and is excellent value as well."

Rolls Royce enthusiast club member David Towers, from Nottingham, was at the event with his friend Richard Haskings, from Kegworth.

David said: "I've been for the last three years in a row. We've looked at the car displays, watched a bit of the racing and watched the E-type Jaguars as they arrived. There were a colossal number, they just seemed to go on and on and on."

"I think the event's improving every year and the number of people coming seems to be going up. We're having a good day."

John Turtle, from Wokingham, parked his Morgan Plus 8 in one of the classic car displays.

He said: "There's quite a bit of camaraderie among people as you look at each others' cars and ask questions. I like it because it's a good opportunity to get to meet lots of other people with the same interests."

"It's the first time I've been to the Classic and I think it's good. You can get quite close to the cars and see the engineers working on them both before and after the races, which is great."

Carol and Steve Anstiss, from Guildford, were part of the parade of E-type Jaguars.

Carol said: "This is the first time we've been to the Classic. The main reason we came was to be in the parade."

"It was amazing, just stunning. There were just E-types as far as the eye could see, it was great."

What we offer is a distinctive Park rich with character in a beautifully landscaped riverside setting, ideally situated in the heart of the countryside.

Riverside Holiday Park is easily accessed from Junction 13 and 14 of the M1, the A6 and the A1 and has been a family holiday destination for over 60 years.

Riverside is a safety valve from the pressures of modern life and there's no better place to unwind than on the riverbank – fishing rights are included and you can even use a small boat if you want more exercise!

Park open March – January

Accompanied viewing by appointment if required or you're welcome to visit anytime.

Free Insurance included for purchases before the end of July.

Riverside Holiday Park, Pavenham, Bedfordshire.

THE HOME IMPROVEMENT PARTNERSHIP

Homesure • The Door Studio • MK Glass

2011 sees the grand opening of the newly extended showroom that will feature Bi-Fold doors in another first for the improvement specialists, The Home Improvement Partnership. This now provides the widest range of home improvements under one roof. The extensive range available to view includes beautiful PVCu windows & doors, stunning coloured composite doors, complimentary roofline products, luxurious conservatories, fully operational electric roller shutter garage doors, versatile Bi Fold doors in 2,3 and 4 part configurations, patio doors and french doors. The Home Improvement Partnership includes the use of well known and respected local brand names

Extended Showroom to Feature Bi-Fold Doors

Homesure, The Door Studio, Simply Conservatories, Online Window Quotes, Denverglaze and the latest addition MK Glass, which provides replacement sealed units to fit into existing frames. This offers customers all the benefits of energy efficient glazing at a fraction of the cost of full replacement and ending the nightmare of misty, clouded and unattractive sealed units. Additional floor space has been acquired to extend the showroom over two floors at Wharfside in Fenny Stratford. John Connolly (pictured right) with General Manager Dave Connell proudly displaying the company's Pilkington EnergiKare certificate. Dave said "I have found that most of our customers are looking for the best possible products in terms of energy efficiency at the moment. Saving money on fuel bills and reducing energy consumption is definitely a priority. I am convinced that we are able to offer the widest possible range of home improvement products that give our customers the very highest quality at simply unbeatable prices. I welcome customers personally to visit the new showroom and see for themselves the extensive range of doors, windows and home improvements we have to offer. The showroom is open 7 days a week to make sure that there is always a convenient time for our customers to visit us, and I am always pleased to discuss a customer's exact requirements and offer my experience and advice as well as giving an immediate quotation. Another unique service that many customers find useful, is our instant online quotation website. It can be used to compare any quotation a customer may already have, or to get an accurate price on new windows and doors, it is easy to use! I feel we offer by far the most comprehensive range of products in the region and am convinced that our transparent pricing policy gives customers excellent value and complete peace of mind"

Dave Connell says - "When Homesure originally opened in Milton Keynes in 1991, the objective was to provide a warm and welcoming way of doing straight forward business with local people. A few simple guidelines were set out to ensure that it was always a pleasure to do business with Homesure. No dubious sales techniques, false promises or underhand tactics, just straight forward good deals, a great product for a fair price. Those initial principals have not changed. Over 100 new customers a month from Milton Keynes, and the surrounding areas, now choose a brand of The Home Improvement Partnership, either Homesure, The Door Studio, Denverglaze, Simply Conservatories or MK Glass. Therefore, you are invited to have a FREE NO OBLIGATION QUOTATION in the comfort of your own home or online, or to visit our QUOTE CLINIC. Bring your window sizes, styles and maybe a photo to our showroom for on the spot advice, design and quotation. You can see for yourself our range of products and finishes. This makes it easier for you to avoid the minefield of wasted evenings and high pressure sales techniques." So we welcome you to pop in for a coffee and some good old fashioned friendly service"

Campaign to save cockerel

REGULARS at a village pub have launched a campaign to save a neighbouring cockerel, after its owner was served with a noise abatement notice by the local council.

Our sister paper the Chronicle & Echo reported last week how Cockadoodle Welch, which lives in High Street, Pottersbury, with 12 hens and its owner Carl Welch, had been told by South Northamptonshire Council to go and crow somewhere else, after some neighbours complained he was waking them up in the morning.

Mature student Mr Welch, aged 49, said his prized pet – which even has its own Facebook page – now faced having to live with other birds in Lincolnshire.

But Cockadoodle's local pub, the aptly-named Cock Inn, in Pottersbury, has launched an online campaign to save the rooster.

It has also set up a petition calling for the council to back down in its demands and it has already attracted more than 50 signatures.

Landlord of The Cock Inn, Brian Dummer, said: "What do people expect when living in the countryside? We didn't move here to hear the sound of traffic or trains. It's wildlife you expect and a cockerel is, as far as I know, 'wildlife'."

"I was born and brought up in the country and it's nice to hear the sounds of the animals and birds. The pub is only about 100 yards away from Carl's bird and I'm not bothered.

"I think now, since all this has come to light, my regulars are going to try to save old Cockadoodle Welch, and good luck to them."

A spokesman for South Northamptonshire Council said last week Cockadoodle Welch's crowing had attracted complaints from two of Mr Welch's neighbours, and a total of 50 recordings made in the area over the course of a week showed he crowed constantly between 6.40am and 7.30am.

Mr Welch has been served with a noise abatement order requiring the bird be kept quite until 7.30am each day.

Christine Blowman outside her new boutique in Wootton

CE picture by LINDA DAWSON

Businesswoman opens boutique

A NEW boutique run by an award-winning businesswoman has opened in a Northamptonshire village.

The Wootton Boutique, in Sunnyside, opposite The Yeoman village pub, is a family-run business headed by Christine Blowman, a former county retailer of the year and businesswoman of the year, and a runner-up in the national business person of the year awards.

She said: "Ladies told us they were tired of high street shopping and would welcome a more traditional shop in a village environment.

"Out-of-town shopping is becoming even more popular and people are willing to travel if the shop offers what they want and the surroundings add to the enjoyment of their shopping experience."

"Feedback from customers so far has proved this to be very true."

Call for better checks

THE daughter of one of the five dementia patients who died at the Parkside Nursing Home following serious neglect has called for every inspection to be unannounced to stop a repeat of the tragedy.

Last week the Government confirmed better care home staff training and stricter care home checks are now taking place as a result of the deaths at the St Matthew's Parade home in 2009, which led to a Serious Case Review.

But Marie Robinson, whose mum, 83-year-old ex-Women's Auxillary Airforce member Doreen Sheridan, was one of the victims of the serious neglect, said a more important change would be a move towards entirely unannounced visits by the Care Quality Commission (CQC) watchdog that would show nursing homes as they usually are.

Mrs Robinson of Hunsbury Hill, Northampton, said: "I just can't see the point of giving then time to dress people up and generally prepare what the inspector will see."

"Unplanned visits are the only way you will get to see what really goes on."

Mrs Sheridan, who had severe Alzheimer's disease, died on August 4, 2009, having been urgently moved from Parkside House where it was found she had been suffering severe pressure sores.

The cause of death was given as in part bronchopneumonia and doctors told her family it was brought on by a lack of mobility.

BTEC Science students from Caroline Chisholm School in Northampton are pictured being taught specific fitness routines by instructors at Virgin Active gym in Riverside

Students fit for lesson

STUDENTS donned their fitness attire for a special lesson in personal training at a Northampton gym.

The professional fitness instructors at Virgin Active Gym, at Riverside Park, Northampton, helped the 15-year-old BTEC science pupils to develop specific training plans for overweight teenagers and for pensioners recovering from an operation.

The partnership with Caroline Chisholm School helped the students to complete the next stage of their two-year course.

Daniel McGowan, who teaches the course, said: "The assignment was a great success and gave the students a real hands-on learning experience."

Flats suffer a third fire

A BLOCK of flats has now become an "arson hotspot" according to a fire chief, following the third blaze in a month.

Rubbish in the lobby area of St Katherine's Court, in Castle Street, Spring Boroughs, was deliberately set on fire at around 8.10pm on Sunday, destroying the interior.

It was the third time the Northampton Borough Council-owned block had been targeted in a short space of time, with the first fire on Monday, June 27, at around 10.45pm and the second on Saturday, July 9 at around 5.15pm.

Northamptonshire Police said it was working closely with Northamptonshire Fire and Rescue Service's Arson Task Force to tackle the issue.

Firefighter Kevin Hornsey, the incident commander on the scene, said: "Once is too many, but three deliberate attacks is unacceptable.

"It's pitiful that somebody is

The lobby of St Katherine's Court has been hit by fires getting a kick out of this.

"Our concern is that the fire could get bigger and bigger and the people on the top floors won't know what's going on until it's too late and they can't escape."

But he added that residents in the block – and all high-rise buildings – needed to take responsibility for putting rubbish away correctly and not create a tempting situation for arsonists.

A Northampton Borough Council Spokesman said: "We understand this can be distressing for the residents in St Katherine's Court, and we are working with Northamptonshire Police and doing everything we can to resolve this.

"We have arranged for the area to be cleaned and re-decorated. In the meantime, we are writing to all residents and conducting home visits to remind occupants of their responsibility in putting rubbish into a secure and locked bin store."

■ Angela Stallwood, aged 39, from Drayton Walk, Kingsthorpe, was remanded in custody after appearing in court charged with arson following the incident on Saturday, July 9.

Amazing tales

THE story of this aeroplane, once thought lost but now restored and flying again, will be told on Tuesday, August 2, at Sywell Aerodrome.

"A Biplane for Biggles, Finding, Restoring and Flying, the 1914 BE-2c Replica Aeroplane" is the title of the talk by Steve Slater in aid of the Sywell Aviation Museum.

He will tell the fascinating story of the construction of a rare replica World War One aeroplane in 1969 by a famous stunt pilot, its loss in a crash and disappearance then rediscovery by the builder's son 40 years later, leading to its return to flight at Sywell earlier this year.

The aeroplane will be available for inspection before the talk at 7.30pm in the The Cirrus Room, at the Aviator Hotel, Sywell Aerodrome. Entrance fee is £4.

Homes plan at site of old pub

NEW houses could soon be built on the site of a former Northampton pub.

The Double Four in Ringway, Briar Hill was demolished after the pub was declared "no longer economically viable".

Bedfordshire-based developer, Parrott, has now revealed plans to build 16 new homes on the site.

In documents which were submitted to Northampton Borough Council this week, the firm said: "The design of the proposed houses would result in an improvement on the character and appearance of the area compared to the former public house."

The firm was granted planning permission in November last year to build 13 houses on the site.

The homes would have been made available to tenants through a housing association, but the firm said that "the lack of availability of Government grants led to the housing association which was intending to purchase the units from the applicant withdrawing its offer".

Parrot is now in talks with another housing association and said that if it was granted planning permission to develop the former pub site, all of the new homes would be affordable housing.

The firm has also said the development site's close proximity to a railway line would not be a problem for people who would move into the houses.

They said: "There is a railway line to

The Double Four, which used to stand in Ringway, has now been demolished the east of the site. However this is the Northampton loop which is not heavily used by trains."

Before it was demolished, the pub was put on the market in October 2008. After failing to sell, it was put up for auction in 2009, but did not reach its asking price.

Financial figures for the pub show that in 2006 it bought 209 barrels of beer, which fell to 146 in 2008, before the pub finally closed.

Members of Northampton Borough Council's planning department will look at the plans for the site over the coming months, before deciding if the development can go ahead.

Cadets off for training

ARMY cadets from the county will be taking part in an annual training camp in Norfolk.

Cadets from Leicestershire, Northamptonshire and Rutland Army Cadet Force will be combining military training and fun activities.

About 250 cadets will attend each of the three-week-long courses, taking place from Saturday until August 20. Activities include camping, canoeing, climbing, rifle shooting, sports, paintballing, field craft, archery, skill at arms and a two-day field training exercise.

Col Stephen Davies said: "It is the one time in the year when cadets of all ages can put into practice everything they have learned in their detachments through the previous year."

New shops for village

A NEW village on the outskirts of Northampton could soon get a pub and shops, years after building work started on the site.

Plans have been submitted to the West Northamptonshire Development Corporation (WNDC) to build a pub, nursery, shops, restaurant and old people's home in Upton.

The development, which would face onto Weedon Road, has been welcomed by Upton residents, who currently have to drive either to Sixfields or to a nearby petrol station to do their shopping.

Upton Parish Council member, Alan Bottwood, said: "Upton doesn't really have any facilities like this at the moment, so this is very welcomed."

"A lot of people have lived in the village for quite a few years now and they've grown quite frustrated at not having any shops, so hopefully this will solve that problem."

As well as the shops and pub in the latest plan, the development would also include 324 new homes, completing the Upton development.

Doncaster-based developers, Keepmoat Homes, have said the new shops in the scheme would not harm Northampton town centre because of their distance from the town.

An artist's impression of what the new shops and pub could look like in Upton

They said: "It is not considered that a small number of retail units, a convenience store and a cafe or restaurant in this location will impact on the convenience retail offer in the town centre or those in Sixfields or St James, as they serve different markets."

"Sixfields serves regional shoppers and St James serves local market demand in the St James and Victoria Park communities."

The nursery in the new development would be for 70 children.

The pub would cover 5,400-sq ft while the cafe or restaurant and convenience store would both cover about 4,800-sq ft each.

The new shops on the site would cover a combined area of 8,700-sq ft.

The land along Weedon Road where the development is planned for is currently owned by the Government's Homes and Communities Agency.

The village of Upton was designed with personal input from Prince Charles.

It is now estimated that about 3,000 people live in the village.

The WNDC's planning committee for Northampton is expected to make a decision on whether or not the development can go ahead later in the year.

Pat Dunkley and Joyce Stanbridge have retired from The Pavilion Pre-School

Long-serving workers retire

TWO dedicated childcare workers have retired after giving a total of more than five decades' service to a Northampton pre-school.

Pat Dunkley and Joyce Stanbridge have together clocked up more than 50 years at The Pavilion Pre-School in Billing Road East.

To mark their retirement at the end of last week the pre-school held a surprise party on Saturday in their honour.

Dawn Walters, pre-school manager, said: "Pat and Joyce's knowledge, experience and expertise have just been amazing. I have only known them for six years but the children absolutely love them. They are a lot of fun."

"We are going to miss them very much. We really appreciate all they have done for us over the years."

Mrs Dunkley has worked at The Pavilion for 29 years. The 61-year-old, from West Hunsbury, plans to use her retirement to travel more.

She said: "When my daughter went to school at the age of four I started coming here in the mornings for something to do."

"It suited me because I could have my weekends and school holidays and didn't have to worry about childcare. It escalated from there and now I'm retiring after 29 years here."

"I'm sad to go but I'm not handing in my P45 just yet as I'll still be around for back-up support if they need me."

Mrs Stanbridge has worked at The Pavilion for 21 years, after starting in 1989 as a volunteer. The 66-year-old, of Rushmere, plans use her extra free time to take more holidays and to pursue her hobby of barn dancing.

She said: "My eldest daughter came here before it was The Pavilion and I started as a volunteer in 1989. In 1990 I was asked to join the staff and I enjoyed it and haven't gone away since."

"I will miss the children and staff but I'm only down the road so I'll be popping in to see them in future."

Protection plan

A NEW Neighbourhood Plan which would force developers to properly consult with villagers is being drawn up in Brixworth.

The power for local councils to compile the plans has come from the Localism Bill, which is due to become law this year and residents are seeking to take advantage of the new legislation to protect the village.

Mike Lacey, chairman of Brixworth Parish Council, who is leading the Brixworth Neighbourhood Plan Working Group, said: "We have so far agreed that the plan should be based on the existing Village Design Statement."

"At its first meeting the group discussed how it might protect the village community from creeping urbanisation and ensure that green spaces around the village boundaries are maintained."

Mr Lacey said the group was aware there was a requirement for 930 houses to be built in the Daventry rural area by 2026.

It will now seek to work out what the requirement for Brixworth might be.

Mr Lacey said: "The Localism Bill, expected to become law at the end of this year, will give communities such as ours far greater powers to create the kind of community we want."

Vintage fun for all ages

MORE than 100 vintage vehicles from through the ages gathered at Northampton and Lamport Railway over the weekend.

Among the vehicles at the annual vintage gathering, now in its third year, were vintage tractors, classic cars, steam rollers, stationary engines, commercials and period caravans.

Other attractions included stalls, a real ale bar, children's entertainment and the chance to have a passenger ride on a train or red double decker bus.

Visitors were also able to check on the progress of the Lottery-funded restoration of the Allchin Roller 1131.

Sharon Skinner was one of the event's organisers, along with her husband Julian.

She said: "Over the weekend we have had more than 2,000 people here and probably about 120 vehicles, including classic cars."

"It's the third time we've run this show and it's been a great weekend. It's gone very well and I think most people have had a great time.

"We've had a huge range of ages come down, from youngsters only just toddling right through to the elderly who may have operated machinery like this when they were younger and who have had a chance to remember their past."

"It was showery on Friday so we're really pleased the weather has held off for the rest of the weekend and we have had some lovely sunshine.

"I'm really pleased with how it's gone and especially that we've also raised money not only for the railway but for the preservation society for the Allchin Roller as well."

For more information about the restoration of the Allchin Roller 1131 visit <http://allchinroller.com>.

Park one of best spaces

DAVENTRY Country Park has again been recognised as one of Britain's best green spaces after receiving the prestigious Green Flag Award.

The award, a national benchmark for excellence, is given to parks and green spaces by the Green Flag Plus Partnership in recognition of the people who look after the park.

The Daventry beauty spot has now been awarded the flag 11 times in the past 12 years.

Green Flag judges visited the park in April and it passed stringent qualifying criteria.

The feedback from the judges will now be used by the council to further improve the country park to meet the needs of its customers and wildlife.

The Mayor of Northampton, Jamie Lane, shows his football skills at Spencer FC's 75th anniversary celebrations

Club marks anniversary

A PERFORMANCE by Northampton band The Jets and a visit by the Mayor of Northampton were among the highlights of Northampton Spencer FC's 75th anniversary celebrations.

The Kingsthorpe-based football club held a fun day at the weekend to mark their landmark anniversary.

The chairman of the club's social committee, Jim Connolly, said: "It was a great day and everything went very successfully."

"The Jets put on a wonderful performance and I think the mayor was really impressed with the set-up we've got down here."

A nursery raised £400 for charity when it teamed up with local businesses to promote Towcester.

Katie Andrews enjoys the music at Little Dragons Nursery tishall, near Towcester, arranged the summer fete which attracted more than 100 visitors.

Alongside traditional fete activities, including pony rides and a bouncy castle, around 20 businesses hosted stalls for the first time.

Pamela said: "With times being hard, we thought the summer fete was a great opportunity for everybody to promote themselves and for local people to see what is on offer.

"Many of the businesses who couldn't make it donated wonderful prizes which made it a great success."

The event raised £400 for the British Heart Foundation.

Meanwhile, the London Olympic mascot Wenlock helped launch the countdown to the 2012 games by appearing at Althorp at the weekend.

The mascot made an appearance at The Daventry Open Weekend 2011, held at Althorp House at the weekend, where free activities, including street performers, tennis, live music performances, giant chess, football skills, rugby, cricket and athletics were held.

The weekend was organised by Daventry District Council in partnership with the London Organising Committee of the Olympic Games and Paralympic Games, as well as other local organisations.

■ COMEDY – Mark Watson

■ CHILDREN'S – Charlie And Lola's Best Bestest Play

ARANGE of music and comedy will be taking to the Royal stage as part of Royal & Derngate's autumn season. It ranges from half-term fun for children to something just for the adults. Two Gentlemen of Verona is brought into a pop culture world in this production directed by Matthew Dunster. The story of two friends Valentine and Proteus who compete for the love of Silvia, the daughter of the Duke of Milan is told in a world of paparazzi, music and fashion. It is performed by physical theatre company RashDash Productions. The production runs from Friday, September 30 until Saturday, October 22. Tickets cost from £12 to £27.

Comedian Mark Watson, who is well known for appearances on Mock The Week and Never Mind The Buzzcocks as well as his shows on Radio Four, appears on October 25. His rambling, frantic, yet self-deprecating style is winning more and more fans. Tickets cost £16. Children will be entertained over half-term by a stage version of the television favourite based on the books by Lauren Child, Charlie and Lola, with Charlie and Lola's Best Bestest Play. The show, by Watershed Productions, tells how Charlie wants to get Lola to go to sleep. But Lola is not sleepy and does not want to go to bed so it is not easy, especially as there is an ogre hiding in the wardrobe. The show runs from Thursday, October 27 until Saturday, October 29. Tickets cost £13.

■ GILBERT AND SULLIVAN
– The Gondoliers

A musical drama based on the novel The Go Between is on stage in November. The story may be best known from the film starring Julie Christie and Alan Bates. It tells of a boy who unwittingly becomes the messenger between adults in a deceitful affair in a hot Norfolk summer in the 1900s. The production is directed by Roger Haines and stars Sophie Bould, Stephen Carlile and Chris Theo Cook. Tickets cost from £12 to £27. It runs from Wednesday, November 2 to Saturday, November 19. Cara Dillon, whose latest album, Hill Of Thieves, was voted Album of the Year at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards, appears on Friday, January 13, bringing her emotive traditional music to a live audience. Tickets cost £20.

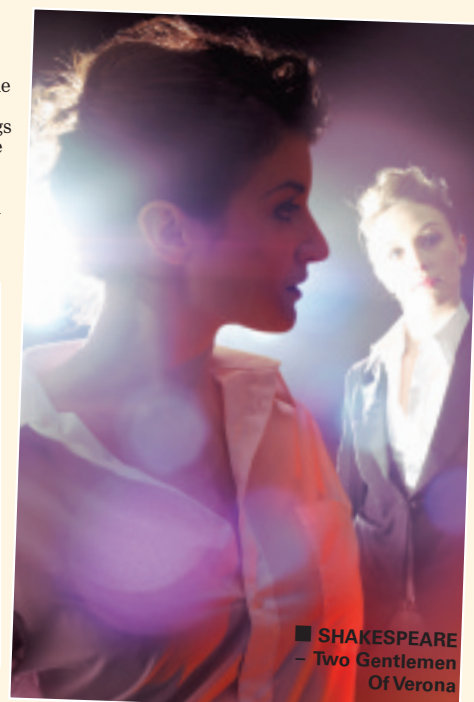

The Burlesque Show stars Kittie Klaw in an evening of magic, music and comedy on Sunday, January 15. This is recommended for over-16s only. Tickets cost £18.50. One of Gilbert and Sullivan's most popular operettas, The Gondoliers, is on from Monday, January 16 to Saturday, January 21. It takes us to Venice where we meet the Duke and Duchess of Plaza-toro and Don Alhambra del Bolero. It includes the songs Take A Pair of Sparkling Eyes and Dance A Cachucha. Tickets cost from £16.50 to £19.50. To book call the box office on 01604 624811 or go online at www.royalandderngate.co.uk

All action captain

RECALLING the cliffhanger TV series of the 1950s, Captain America: The First Avenger establishes the origins of one of the most popular superheroes from the Marvel Comics stable.

Admittedly, director Joe Johnston has an arsenal of state-of-the-art digital effects at his disposal to spruce up the old-fashioned ideals in Christopher Markus and Stephen McFeely's script. However, there's something rather charming about the underlying themes of self-sacrifice and valour, and a chaste romantic sub-plot between the strapping hero and his feisty dame that never strays beyond a kiss. Only the sadistic killing spree of the central villain – a power-hungry Nazi officer with a burned-off face – warrants the 12A certificate that makes Johnston's film unsuitable for very young audiences.

Captain America opens in the present day with the discovery of the wreckage of a gargantuan craft then flashes back to 1942 Norway.

Diabolical German officer Johann Schmidt (Hugo Weaving) steals a Cosmic Cube belonging to Odin and charges mad scientist Dr Arnim Zola (Toby Jones) with harnessing the Cube's power as part of his plans for world domination.

Meanwhile in America, German defector Dr Abraham Erskine (Stanley Tucci) is spearheading a secret programme to create the ultimate soldier. He chooses asthmatic weakling Steve Rogers (Chris Evans) as the perfect candidate for the treatment.

Captain America: The First Avenger is an entertaining introduction to the iconic characters, using digital trickery to impose Evans's head on a scrawny body before his metamorphosis.

Atwell makes her entrance by punching an insubordinate soldier in the face and she embraces her role as the gutsy love interest with fervour, sparking smouldering screen chemistry with Evans.

Captain America Will Return promises a title card at the end of the film in place of the additional scene we have come to expect from comic book adaptations.

Indeed he will, alongside Iron Man, Thor and Hulk in the big-budget film version of The Avengers, which will be smashing and crashing into cinemas in summer 2012. The countdown to tag-team superheroes begins.

Obituaries

CHAMBERLAIN Sylvia

If we could have a life time wish, a dream that would come true, we'd pray to God with all our hearts for yesterday and you. A thousand words can't bring you back, we know because we've tried neither will a thousand tears we know because we've cried.

You left behind our broken hearts and happy memories too but we never wanted memories we only wanted you.

Love you millions and millions Mum Sleep tight. Your loving Son Kevin and Maureen. x x

Obituaries

SYLVIA CHAMBERLAIN

You can shed tears that she is gone, or you can smile because she has lived, You can close your eyes and pray that she'll come back or you can open your eyes and see all she's left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see her, or you can be full of the love you shared. You can turn your back onto tomorrow and live yesterday or you can be happy because of tomorrow because of yesterday. You can remember her and only that she's gone, or you cherish her memory and let it live on. You can cry and close your mind be empty and turn your back, or you can do what she'd want, smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

From your loving Grandchildren and Great Grandchildren.

WILKES Brenda (Formerly Britten)

SHORTLAND Alan

Loving and precious Husband of Shirley. Passed away July 22nd 1991.

No length of time can take away my thoughts of you and yesterday, In quiet moments I live again the days that used to be, so full of laughter, love and care, how special you were to me. Next time we meet my darling, it will be at Heaven's Door, and when I see you standing there, I won't cry anymore. Along with the tears and heartache, there is one thing that makes me glad, I had one of the most loving and caring Husbands, a Wife could ever have. Shirley.

Great delivery is second nature to us

At HMGCC we design and develop leading-edge communication systems to support the UK's interests at home and overseas.

We are able to offer our employees a superb working environment with benefits that reflect our desire to invest in our people, including on-site facilities that include a restaurant, sports facilities, nursery and baby unit, as well as a number of social societies and clubs. In addition, we offer excellent holiday entitlement and career development opportunities.

We currently have the following opportunities:

PCB Design and Layout Specialist

Salary £20,500 - £26,500

We are looking for an experienced PCB Specialist who has a good knowledge of mixed technology, multi-layer PCB layout, to work as part of our Electro-Mechanical Design team. You should ideally hold a recognised Electrical Engineering qualification and be able to produce 'fit for purpose' PCB layouts that are suitable for internal or sub-contract manufacture. The work is varied and you will sometimes be under the pressure of meeting deadlines, therefore you must be a good team player who can show drive and enthusiasm to complete any project within the required timescales.

Senior PCB Design and Layout Specialist

Salary £26,500 - £34,000

You should have previous experience of creating bespoke layouts for PCB designs within a fast paced environment, plus have extensive knowledge of mixed technology, multi-layer PCB layouts. You will work as part of our Electro-Mechanical team and should be willing to assist colleagues and customers with a variety of requirements to satisfactory standards. Good computer and administrative skills are also required along with excellent interpersonal skills.

Production Scheduling Manager

Salary £26,500 - £32,600 plus bonuses

This role requires planning, estimating and scheduling skills along with a good understanding of producing high quality electronic and mechanical equipment within a busy manufacturing facility. You will need a proven background in a similar manufacturing environment with experience of MRP/ERP scheduling systems. You will oversee the maintenance and scheduling of all jobs, monitor progress and measure production against targets so you need good organisational and communication skills as well as the ability to prioritise and coordinate working schedules.

Integration Engineer

Salary £26,500 - £32,600 plus £5,000 welcome package

Our Telecommunications Department is at the forefront of providing secure IT and communication systems to our customers. You will join a team of technicians and engineers responsible for the commissioning and in-service support of the bespoke systems we have developed. The role involves building, testing and configuration of these bespoke systems and you will require a thorough understanding of IT and communication systems in order to analyse faults and make appropriate recommendations for successful integration with customers existing systems. Qualified to at least BTEC/HND level is essential along with previous experience, good communication skills and the ability to multi-task.

Test Engineer

Salary £26,500 - £32,600 plus £5,000 welcome package

Our testing teams work on a wide range of developments from enterprise-class systems to custom desktop applications. You will provide technical expertise throughout the product lifecycle to ensure that the developments use appropriate testing methodologies to achieve high quality standards. You must have an excellent knowledge of all stages of the project and testing lifecycles, tools and methods used to create structured testing plans. As well as a broad understanding of IT hardware, software, operations and networks, you will also be able to demonstrate previous experience of working in a multi-platform Linux and Windows environment.

If you would like to be part of our organisation then please visit our website for full details of the above roles and information about working at HMGCC.

Lamb aims to fulfil England ambition

NEW boy Ryan Lamb believes his move to Saints will enhance his chances of playing for England.

Lamb swapped London Irish for Northampton this summer after turning down the offer of a new one-year contract at the Madejski Stadium.

He cited the longer deal offered by Saints as a key reason for the switch because it offers him the security he needs to flourish on the pitch.

The 25-year-old will now aim to displace Stephen Myler, who made the Saints 10 shirt his own last season.

And Lamb, who has represented England at Saxons level but is yet to win a full cap, feels if he can get ahead of ace Myler in the pecking order, he'll be in a good position to earn a place in future Red Rose squads.

He said: "Me and Stephen want to strive for the same things.

"We get on quite well, he's very chatty, so it's very good to have competition in good heart.

"It's a squad effort this year and if I can be a big part of that then hopefully I can go on to international honours, but at the moment it's just focusing on Northampton and getting a good start to the season."

Myler's development into a consistent kicker is in no small part down to the influence Paul Grayson - who is kicking coach at the Gardens - has had on the player.

Lamb can't wait to work under the guidance of Grayson, as well as director of rugby Jim Mallinder and forwards coach Dorian West, and is hoping to reap the benefits.

"Paul Grayson has played at the highest level as a fly-half, a bit similar to (London Irish attack coach) Mike Catt that I could learn a lot from him," said Lamb.

"I'm really looking forward to the challenge and they're (Mallinder and West) very approachable.

"I knew that from when I was younger (with the England Saxons), so hopefully I can improve as a player and become part of a squad that wants to go somewhere."

Mixed emotions for Lucas

DAVID LUCAS' career best in List A games came in a disappointing outing for the Steelbacks who were crushed by a massive 174-run margin at the hands of the Hampshire Royals at the County Ground on Monday night.

Lucas took five for 48 from his eight overs but along with Andrew Hall, who scored an unbeaten 44, was the only one of the home side to produce anything resembling a decent performance.

And while he was happy with his individual effort, it was tempered to a certain degree by the sub-standard nature of the team's showing.

"On a personal note I was pretty happy with what I did," he said.

"That was my first five-wicket haul in my career. I've had a couple of four-fors, so to get a five-for under my belt I'm chuffed with that."

As for the result, Lucas thinks that the woeful Twenty20 campaign could have something to answer for with regard to the downturn in the Clydesdale Bank 40 fortunes.

"Hampshire came out on top in a big way," he continued.

"Twenty20 is all about momentum, you see teams winning a few games on the bounce and we lost momentum in that.

"There's maybe a bit of a hangover from the Twenty20 stuff but hopefully we can get back on track with the Championship stuff when we go to Swansea.

"Everybody has bad days at the office, we've had a bad two days, so hopefully we can get back on track and play some good cricket."

Next up with the white ball is a trip to divisional leaders Surrey next Wednesday and Lucas wants to travel to London with a confidence-boosting Championship win in the bag.

He added: "That's a big game and hopefully we can go there and turn them over.

"We've just had a blip over the past two games so we want to go to The Oval after a win at Glamorgan, smiles on faces, confidence is back, and get a win under our belts, that would be nice."
